Flappy XMAS Rooster released—new mobile game for Windows Azure gaming platform tlive

17th December 2015 – Available on Android, iOS and Windows devices, the crazy Flappy XMAS Rooster adventure has been unleashed around the world just in time for Christmas. Play now and become the Flappy XMAS Rooster champion this Christmas.

Just like Santa and his elves, app creator triomis have been busy in their workshop creating this year's most exciting Christmas game – Flappy XMAS Rooster! Similar to the super-popular Flappy Bird but with more features and an exciting festive edge, Flappy XMAS Rooster has been developed to showcase triomis' ability to create the most talked about apps and games on the market.

With gorgeous graphics and an intuitive gameplay, you must help the Flappy XMAS Rooster navigate through a festive world whilst avoiding obstacles and collecting Christmas gifts and stars. To help hone your skills and improve your performance, Flappy XMAS Rooster saves your highest scores across a range of difficulty levels.

What's more, Flappy XMAS Rooster use the Windows Azure-based tlive platform on your device and allows you to compete with players around the world with its global scoring list.

Making good use of the Windows Azure platform, triomis' tlive provides service providers with a cloud-based system for saving and sharing gaming data for players around the globe, service monitoring and error handling with Application Insides, notification and telemetric capabilities with Azure ServiceBus.

Excited about its release, Andreas Thurek, CTO and Chief Architect at triomis said: "Everything we build here at triomis is designed for velocity. We are excited that we could provide our Flappy XMAS Rooster in time for the Christmas season, not only for Windows phone and Window users, but for Android and iOS devices too.”

Flappy XMAS Rooster is available now across a number of Android, iOS and Windows devices via the Google Play Store, Apple iTunes Store and Window App Store.
